WE EMPHASISE OUR ROLE AS A CENTRE, A PLACE FOR THE INDEPENDENT DANCE SECTOR TO CONGREGATE, CROSS-
FERTILISE, DEBATE, CRITIQUE.

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES

Critical Path is a choreographic research and development centre based at the Drill Hall, a large rehearsal space on the harbour in central Sydney, Australia. Our mission is to cultivate a program of research opportunities for choreographers and dance makers, nurturing diversity and excellence in a supportive critical environment which fosters creative risk-taking.

With a distinct focus on research and innovation, we support Australian choreographers to incubate new ideas and experiments in our studio so that excellent new work can make it to our stages. We aim to nourish a genuinely independent dance community as they push the boundaries of existing practice in relation to local and international fields, enhancing the vibrancy of the Australian dance sector.

We emphasise our role as a centre, a place for the independent dance sector to congregate, cross-fertilise, debate, critique.

Critical Path began in 2005 to raise the profile of contemporary dance in New South Wales by seeding increased activity, developing new networks and stimulating debate and critical appreciation of dance.

OPERATING RESULT

The net deficit for the year amounted to $13,737 (2014 deficit: $10,515).

This includes the recurring yearly depreciation of $10,443 of the capital assets acquired by the Capital Works grant in 2011 so profit before depreciation breaks even.

Critical Path has been serving the contemporary dance community for 10 years. During this time, online presence and communication has become increasingly important for accessibility to Critical Path programs as well as an important channel for ongoing research and innovation. In 2014, an investment of $13,343 was approved to make a significant strategic investment decision in brand, communications and digital presence, reducing the planned profit for the year. Approximately $3,000 of these approved funds were offset through prudent management of operational expenses.

GOVERNING COMMITTEE

In 2015 changes to the Committee are as follows: Gideon Obarzanek was appointed to the Committee on 3 August 2015.

Nick Power (Artist Representative) and Vicki Van Hout (Artist Representative) resigned from the committee on 25 May and 23 November respectively.

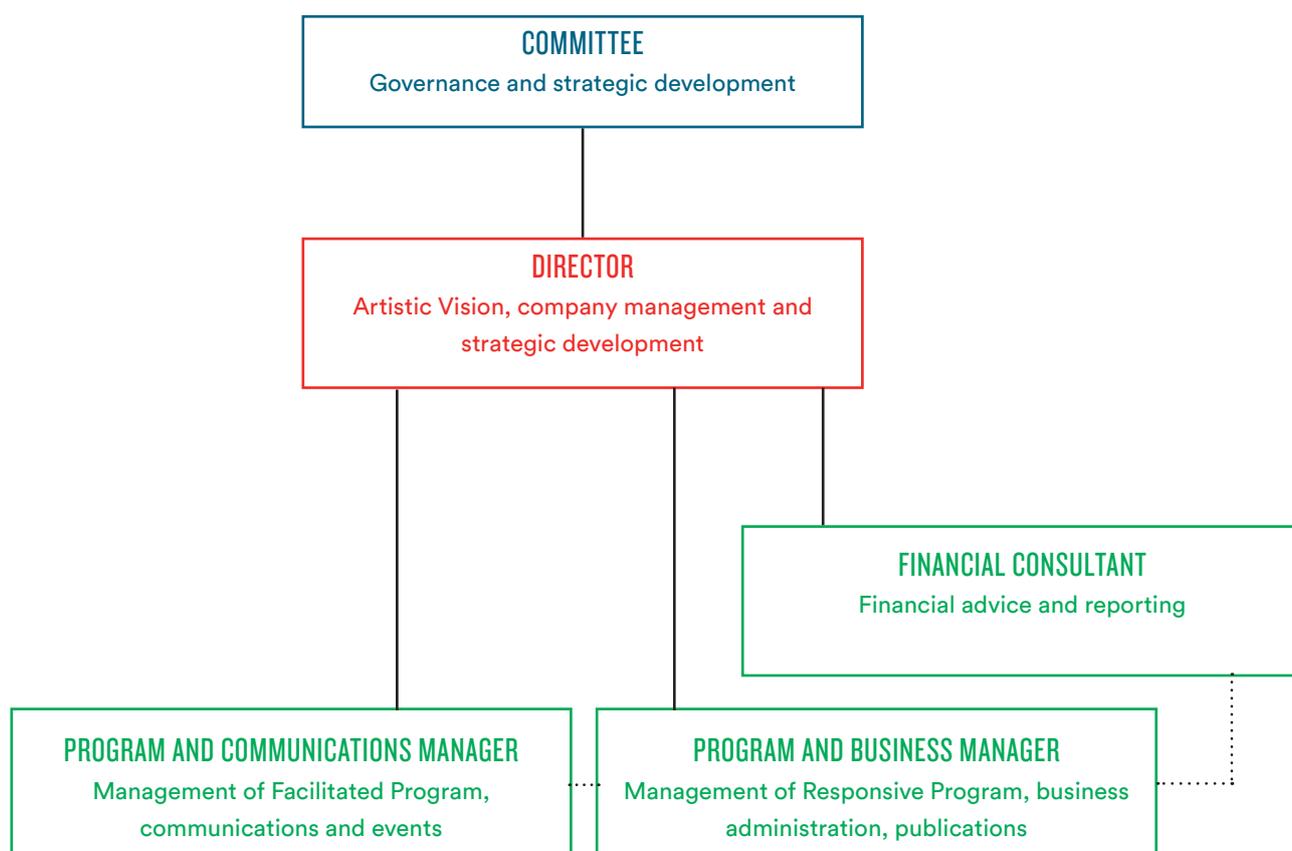

Individual members of the Committee provide considerable volunteer management and operational support to the management team and their contribution is most appreciated.

ACTIVITIES OUTSIDE CRITICAL PATH

Margie undertook no additional activities.

Claire produced a limited edition book, under her independent curating name Geddes&Groves, Double Take as part of the Book Machine project at the Art Book Fair (Art Space) in September and undertook an advisory role (remotely) on Instant Dissidence's project with first year students of theatre studies at tertiary level in Yorkshire, UK, October 2015.

ORGANISATIONAL STRUCTURE AND KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

INTERNSHIPS

In 2015 Critical Path had two student interns: Keira Nightingale (B.A/B.Ed at UNSW) 12 weeks part-time, from February to April and Ryan Joshua Jeffery Legge (dance and performance at Falmouth University, UK) 12 weeks part-time, from September to November. Keira contributed with the organisation by collating images, program copies for the new website, assisted in event management for the 10! Anniversary celebration in March and updated contact list on the database. Ryan assisted the Program Manager in delivering the Interchange Festival, Monsoon Australia and the event Tools for Contemporary Practice.

WEBSITE DESIGN + DEVELOPMENT

Critical Path’s new website was launched in March 2015 to deliver against two key objectives:

1. Engage more comprehensively with our stakeholders.
2. Reduce effort in operational processes.

Designed by Mark Trzopek and developed by Kristin Sinclair of Webgirl Consulting, after initial live testing some changes were made in the second part of the year, addressing certain navigation issues and setting the structure for the Alumni Section which had been postponed at the launch. Programming is a major activity for us, and so what’s on when must be immediately available in a way that allows the viewer to see at a glance the events in the next period, locate desired events easily and access detailed information when required.

It is clear as we make changes to the program and identify new or increased communication needs the website itself will need to reflect these. It is likely that some of the changes will necessitate updates to the website, as with those carried out at the end of 2015. This is particularly likely in the first full year with a director overseeing the website, though it should not be ruled out beyond this. As we increasingly identify a need for and deliver more work beyond the Drill Hall itself it will become more important to keep the website on top of delivering accurate and easily accessible information and as a portal for communication with work across a range of projects and partnerships.

2015 ARTISTIC PROGRAM FUNDING

In 2015, Arts NSW triennial funding from 2012 to 2014 (our majority funding) was extended to 2015 due to a review of their Arts Funding Program (announced in a new Arts and Cultural Development Program); conditional on approval of the 2015 program and budget and meeting the reporting requirements of the previous agreement. During 2015 we received confirmation of triennial funding at $280,000 per annum to cover the period January through to December each year from 2016 to 2018.

In 2015 Critical Path received a $90,000 artform development grant from the Australia Council for the Arts – Dance Board for the Facilitated Program; $3,000 from an Australia Council grant to support Claire Hicks travel to Singapore as part of a dance practitioners exchange. Additional income was raised through partnerships with University of New South Wales ($5,000), Kobaltworks Germany ($16,949) and Arts Centre Melbourne ($1,200). The total non-grant income came to $23,149. Critical Path also generated further income through a donations campaign raising $5,746; and through casual hire of the Drill Hall raising $8,341. The hirers in 2015 were Peter Banki for the Xplore Festival, Yoga Moves, Griffin Theatre Company, Tom Waite, Nikki Heywood, Caterina Mocchiola, Ben Romalis, The Box Studios, Sacred Seed, Nick Maricic and Hanging Around Co.

These combined funds enabled Critical Path to deliver:

8 Responsive projects with 4 linked events (sharings etc) and 9 Research Room Residencies supporting 62 participant artists* and attracting 53 participant observers.

22 Facilitated projects (artform development workshops, presentations, forums, etc) supporting 114 participant artists and attracting 522 participant observers.

*Participant Artists take part in workshop laboratories or are the primary initiators or creative developers of projects from the other program strands.

Participant Observers (Audience) are those attending the different performances, sharings, screenings, talks and exhibitions.

The table below indicates the changes and growth in participation numbers over the last five years in response to the increasing complexity of events within the Critical Path annual program.

RESPONSIVE PROGRAM 2015

The Responsive Residencies Program is a competitive, peer-assessed funding program which supports choreographers to undertake practice-based research in the choreographic field. The program is offered once each year and provides choreographers and their collaborators with substantial financial and in-kind support to conduct their research.

The Responsive Program emphasises the value of risk-taking for future choreographic development and seeks to give choreographers an opportunity to innovate their practice in an environment which promotes open discovery and experimentation rather than outcomes. The program is responsive in that it calls for self-directed, 'blue-sky' research proposals that reflect the particular interests and goals of the artist.

- NARELLE BENJAMIN

PARTNERSHIP WITH CREATIVE PRACTICE LAB, SCHOOL OF ARTS AND MEDIA (SAM), UNIVERSITY OF NEW SOUTH WALES

For the last 7 years, Critical Path and the Creative Practice Lab (CPL) at the School of the Arts and Media (SAM) UNSW have collaborated in providing significant residencies in the Io Myers Studio.

TECHA NOBLE

5 – 22 January 2015

Drill Hall

Técha Noble experimented with costume prosthesis, puppetry and anthropomorphic figurations and transforming these physical extensions to see how they can be engendered with sound. Working with dancers Caroline Garcia and Rachel Melky, together they created composite body images and animist-like creatures playing between that which gives human shape or that which gives shape to human form. Técha's research is derived from her work in drag as part of the ensemble The Kingpins and the question of extending the ontology of the body through sound.

VICTORIA HUNT

Various dates from January to May 2015

Drill Hall

TANGI (tears) is a research concept that explored the transformative qualities of light, water, incantations and embodiment to enunciate the rare and precious nature of culturally significant objects, suspended in foreign collections and museums. Working with fellow choreographer Kristina Chan, TANGI melded the indigenous creativity of Pacific, Asian and Western dance practices with women's ceremonial lore and contemporary indigenous politics. Collaborators also included Boris Bagattini (video, installation & light), James Brown (sound composition), Fausto Brusamolino (light & installation), Aroha Yates-Smith & Paul Tapsell (Te Arawa Tohunga) and Richard Green (Darug language man).

DEAN WALSH

2-22 March 2015

Drill Hall

'Fully DIPPED' is a research project led by Dean Walsh, following on from his Australia Council Fellowship (2011-2012). Walsh describes 'DIPPED' as a 'Directives-led Improvisation Passage, Processing & Evolving Distillations'. 'Each day the score picks up directly from where the previous day left us. We continue to move through its chronological 'stations' of specific modalities, tasks, responses, sensory inhabitations, modifications, adaptations, inscriptions, shared directing/editing, embellishments, disruptions and distillations. We aim to create a thriving, diverse movement environment together constantly evolving material, all recorded on video for later reflection, rather than fixate on choreographic 'assets' at each point of discovery.'

Associated event: Sharing, 24

BRANCH NEBULA

11 – 22 May 2015

Offsite

Branch Nebula's research project took place over two part-time weeks offsite as an experimental series of interventions in skate parks featuring street-style artists, skaters, BMXers, and parkourists, as well as contemporary dance artists and a musician. Collaborations happened improvisationally between the featured participants as well as with other users of the skate park.

ELIZABETH CAMERON DALMAN OAM

27 July – 9 August, 24 – 30 August 2015

Drill Hall and UNSW

Dr Dalman OAM's research centred on the expressive potential of her eighty-year old body. Narelle Benjamin | Responsive Residency

PATRICIA WOOD (SPACE GRANT)

28 January – 19 February 2015

Drill Hall

From a concise movement vocabulary of ten steps, Patricia Wood worked with Rhiannon Newton and Cleo Mees to explore notions of stillness and repetition. They utilised simple choreographic devices to dissect and ascertain: how does the performer and the audience engage with stillness and repetition? How do we derive pleasure and boredom from movement repetition? Does pleasure equate to engagement?

VICKI VAN HOUT (SPACE GRANT)

30 March – 19 April 2015

Drill Hall

Vicki explored the cultural premise of community ownership of cultural expression, i.e. dance, song and story to form the driving narrative or concept for a solo piece.

NARELLE BENJAMIN (SPACE GRANT)

4 May – 10 May, 13 – 26 July 2015

In response to the creative interactions and somatic work developed during her Australia Council Fellowship with choreographer Alice Cummins and physiotherapist Adrian Winkworth, Narelle Benjamin spent time in the studio deepening these explorations on her own body, and observing these explorations interpreted by other dancers.

RESEARCH ROOM RESIDENCIES

Critical Path offers non-financial Research Room Residencies. The program is open nationally and internationally. Residencies support practice-based and/or scholarly research residencies by offering up to three months of office space and equipment including video editing facilities. Residents may facilitate a workshop or a public presentation during their residency period. This program is supported by Woollahra Council.

PETER BANKI

5 – 22 January 2015

Peter Banki explored the manifold forces of sexuality, gender and power as they unfold in choreographic research looking at improvisational techniques, such as those taught by Andrew Morrish and Rosalind Crisp, as well contact improvisation and Japanese rope bondage or kinbaku and Felix Ruckert's concepts of emotional space and spatial emotion.

CHLOÉ DÉCHERY (FR)

23 – 28 March 2015

Together with choreographer Jane McKernan, Chloe Dechery explored the premises of a new project entitled On the Horizon, focusing on individual and collective perceptions of expansive spaces and the horizon. Chloé and Jane used their own biographical narratives as starting points to uncover how spatial experiences can differ and shape us when growing up and living in France or in Australia, whether in an urban flat or a home surrounded by open spaces. Drawing from a combination of readings and writing tasks, field trips and interviews with experts (such as architects, geographers and somatic practitioners), they investigated how our everyday experiences of living in a particular type of space and landscape inform our experience and understanding of what is at stake when thinking of and looking at the horizon.

ANYA MCKEE

1 – 30 April 2015

Anya McKee researched the impact of office lifestyle on the body, specifically the bodies of women in the office. Complex and ripe for investigation, it is a research area that traverses across politics, economy, equality, sex, age and maternity.

RHIANNON NEWTON

10 August – 6 September 2015

Rhiannon Newton continued her research on repetition, with a particular concentration on how repetition might reveal plural meanings from a singular body or action, and looking closely at the writings of Gertrude Stein, Felix Guattari and Astrid Lorange.

SOO-HYUN HWANG (KR)

26 October – 13 November 2015

Long-time dancer and now choreographer Soo-Hyun Hwang's practice investigates relationships between body and dance, people and people, and dance and other mediums from an interdisciplinary and collaborative perspective. Her residency at Critical Path gave her the time to reflect on her ongoing practice and meet Australian choreographers.

MATTHEW DAY

14 – 30 December 2015

Matthew Day's research engaged with his current explorations around materiality, experimental composition and somatic technologies that deal with the body as a series of vibrant surfaces and depths. The research will inform a full length piece scheduled to premiere in late 2016.

FACETS 2015 EXCHANGE

5 January – 8 February 2015

Critical Path supported Patrick Lucky Lartey's travel and participation at the 2015 FACETS residency program. During the residency, Lucky choreographed an eight minute solo embodying the speeches of Nelson Mandela exploring the trajectory of oppression/resistance to freedom/liberation in a postcolonial context. Lucky drew on both traditional West African and Afro-contemporary dance forms in the development of this work, and explored the shared legacies of India and Africa as postcolonial democracies. Lucky's new work was presented at Attakkalari India Biennial's Platform 15 – a showcase to present the work of emerging choreographers from the South Asian region.

Indian choreographer Hemabharathy Palani then joined Lartey in Sydney, in November, during Critical Path's Interchange Festival, to further develop ideas initiated at the FACETS residency.

techniques. In the afternoons, Annalouise Paul led explorations into each participants' unique 'dance DNA', lineage or ancestry, and looked at innovating and hybridising movement as a consequence of cultural triggers.

Shifting the focus away from form as the end result, the workshop aimed to empower contemporary dance makers to explore cultural material and traditional artists to discover new approaches to generating unique movement through tasks and a shared dialogue.

EVERY DAY A THING WORKSHOP - SIEGMAR ZACHARIAS
28 February – 1 March 2015

Drill Hall

Performance maker and university lecturer Siegmur Zacharias (DOCH Stockholm, HZT Berlin, DasArts Amsterdam) worked with Responsive Program residents on the making of new work, by practising 'showing' and watching material, and responding to it using a variety of feedback methods. Every Day a Thing invited each artist to work on their own process and at the same time to be interested in the processes of others through an embodied and experimental approach to dramaturgy. In applying themselves in this way, the participating artists would develop their own contextualisation and conceptualisation skills while offering the same skills development to the other participants.

ANIMAL DANCES WORKSHOP - MARTIN NACHBAR
2 – 3 May 2015

Drill Hall

This workshop proposed approaches, methods, games and scores that Martin developed while making the solo and the group version of Animal Dances. How do we, urban animals of the 21st century, relate to animals and, maybe, to ourselves as creatures? Which dances evolve, when we understand ourselves as beings immersed in a context of other beings? Is imitation a valid tool or does it lead to representation? How do conditioning, animal training and dance practice relate? What do we see when we look at animals? Where do we see and look at animals? What do we look at in the theatre? In an ongoing process of trying out scores and games, generating material, looking at each other and discussing results, Martin worked with participants to develop a practice of researching and creating through our thinking and moving bodies.

1. GENERAL INFORMATION AND STATEMENT OF COMPLIANCE

The financial report includes the financial statements and notes of Critical Path Incorporated.

These financial statements are general purpose financial statements that have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements and Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012. Critical Path Incorporated is a not-for-profit entity for the purposes of preparing the financial statements.

The financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2015 were approved and authorised for issuance by the Committee.

2. CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

2.1 Changes in accounting estimates

There were no changes in accounting estimates during the reporting period.

2.2 New and revised standards that are effective for these financial statements

A number of new and revised standards are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2014. Information on these new standards is presented below:

AASB 2014-1 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards (Part A: Annual Improvements 2010–2012 and 2011–2013 Cycles).

Part A of AASB 2014-1 makes amendments to various Australian Accounting Standards arising from the issuance by the IASB of International Financial Reporting Standards Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2010–2012 Cycle and Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2011–2013 Cycle.

Among other improvements, the amendments arising from Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2010–2012 Cycle:

- clarify that the definition of a ‘related party’ includes a management entity that provides key management personnel services to the reporting entity (either directly or through a group entity).

- amend AASB 8 Operating Segments to explicitly require the disclosure of judgements made by management in applying the aggregation criteria.

Among other improvements, the amendments arising from Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2011–2013 Cycle clarify that an entity should assess whether an acquired property is an investment property under AASB 140 Investment Property and perform a separate assessment under AASB 3 Business Combinations to determine whether the acquisition of the investment property constitutes a business combination.

Part A of AASB 2014-1 is applicable to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 July 2014.

The adoption of these amendments has not had a material impact on the association.

3 SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES

3.1 Overall considerations

The significant accounting policies that have been used in the preparation of these financial statements are summarised below.

The financial statements have been prepared using the measurement bases specified by Australian Accounting Standards for each type of asset, liability, income and expense. The measurement bases are more fully described in the accounting policies below.

3.2 Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised when the association is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy. Revenues are recognised net of the amounts of goods and services tax (GST) payable to the Australian Taxation Office.

Government grants

Grant revenue is recognised in the statement of surplus or deficit and other comprehensive income when the association obtains control of the grant and it is probable that the economic benefits gained from the grant will flow to the association and the amount of the grant can be measured reliably.

If conditions are attached to the grant which must be satisfied before it is eligible to receive the contribution, the recognition of the grant as revenue will be deferred until those conditions are met.

When grant revenue is received whereby the association incurs an obligation to deliver economic value directly back to the contributor, this is considered a reciprocal transaction, and the grant revenue is recognised in the statement of financial position as a liability until the service has been delivered to the contributor, otherwise the grant is recognised as income upon receipt.

Revenue from a non-reciprocal grant that is not subject to conditions is recognised when the association obtains control of the funds, economic benefits are probable and the amount can be measured reliably. Where a grant may be required to be repaid if certain conditions are not satisfied, a liability is recognised at year end to the extent that conditions remain unsatisfied.

Where the association receives a non-reciprocal contribution of an asset from a government or other party for no or nominal consideration, the asset is recognised at fair value and a corresponding amount of revenue is recognised.

Donations and bequests

Donations collected, including cash and goods for resale, are recognised as revenue when the association gains control, economic benefits are probable and the amount can be measured reliably.

Investment income

Investment income is comprised of interest. Interest income is recognised as it accrues using the effective interest rate method.

3.3 Expenditure

All expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to that category. Where costs cannot be directly attributed to a particular category they have been allocated to activities on a basis consistent with the use of resources.

Other costs comprise program delivery expenses.

Operating expenses are recognised in surplus or deficit upon utilisation of the service or at the date of their origin.

3.4 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position comprise cash at bank and in hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less. For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and cash equivalents as defined above, net of any outstanding bank overdrafts.

3.5 Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables, which comprise amounts due from services provided, are recognised and carried at original invoice amount less an allowance for any uncollectable amounts. Normal terms of settlement are usually within 30 days. The notional amount of the receivable is deemed to reflect fair value.

An allowance for doubtful debts is made when there is objective evidence that the association will not be able to collect the debts. Bad debts are written off when identified.

3.6 Property, plant and equipment

Bases of measurement of carrying amount

Plant and other equipment (comprising fitting and furniture) are initially recognised at acquisition cost, including any costs directly attributable to bringing the assets to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by the association's management.

Plant and other equipment are subsequently measured using the cost model, cost less subsequent depreciation and impairment losses.

Depreciation is recognised on a straight-line basis to write down the cost less estimated residual value of plant and other equipment. The following useful lives are applied:

	2015 % pa	2014 % pa
Plant and equipment	10-33	10-33
Leasehold improvements	2.5	2.5

In the case of leasehold property, expected useful lives are determined by reference to comparable owned assets or over the term of the lease, if shorter.

Material residual value estimates of useful life are updated as required, but at least annually.

Gains or losses arising on the disposal of plant and equipment are determined as the difference between the disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the assets and are recognised in profit or loss within other income or other expenses.

Impairment

The carrying values of plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment at each reporting date, with the recoverable amount being estimated when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

The recoverable amount of plant and equipment is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. Depreciated replacement cost is the current replacement cost of an item of plant and equipment less, where applicable, accumulated depreciation to date, calculated on the basis of such cost.

Impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset exceeds its estimated recoverable amount. The asset is then written down to its recoverable amount.

For plant and equipment, impairment losses are recognised in the statement of surplus or deficit and other comprehensive income.

De-recognition and disposal

An item of plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal, when the item is no longer used in the operations of the association or when it has no sale value. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in surplus or deficit in the year the asset is derecognised.

Intangible assets are capitalised on the basis of the costs incurred to acquire and install the assets. Items of intangibles are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses.

3.7 Intangible assets

Basis of measurement of carrying amount

Any intangibles donated to the association or acquired for nominal cost are recognised at fair value at the date the association obtains control of the assets.

Amortisation

Items of intangibles are amortised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives to the association commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

- Software and database: 25% pa
- Website development: 33% pa

Disposal

When an intangible asset is disposed of, the gain or loss on disposal is determined as the difference between the proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, and is recognised in surplus or deficit within other income or other expenses.

3.8 Trade creditors and other payables

Trade payables and other payables represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the association prior to the end of the financial year that are unpaid. These amounts are usually settled in 30 days. The notional amount of the payables is deemed to reflect fair value.

3.9 Deferred income

The liability for deferred income is the unutilised amounts of grants received on the condition that specified services are delivered or conditions are fulfilled. The services are usually provided or the conditions usually fulfilled within 12 months of receipt of the grant. When the amount received is in respect of services to be provided over a period that exceeds 12 months after the reporting date or the conditions will only be satisfied more than 12 months after the reporting date, the liability is discounted.

3.10 Employee benefits

Employee benefits comprise wages and salaries, annual, non-accumulating sick and long service leave, and contributions to superannuation plans.

Liabilities for wages and salaries expected to be settled within 12 months of balance date are recognised in other payables in respect of employees' services up to the reporting date. Liabilities for annual leave in respect of employees' services up to the reporting date which are expected to be settled within 12 months of balance date are recognised in the provision for annual leave. Both liabilities are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. Liabilities for non-accumulating sick leave are recognised when the leave is taken and are measured at the rates paid or payable.

The liability for long service leave is recognised in the provision for employee benefits and measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date using the projected unit credit method. Consideration is given to anticipated future wage and salary levels, experience of employee departures, and periods of service. Expected future payments are discounted using market yields at the reporting date on national government bonds with terms to maturity and currencies that match, as closely as possible, the estimated future cash outflows.

The association pays contributions to certain defined contribution superannuation plans. Contributions are recognised in the income statement when they are due. The association has no obligation to pay further contributions to these plans if the plans do not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits relating to employee service in current and prior periods.

3.11 Leased assets and liabilities

Operating leases

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense in the statement of surplus or deficit and other comprehensive income on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

3.12 Taxation

Income tax

No provision for income tax has been raised as the association is exempt from income tax under Division 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

Goods and services tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office, in which case it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of expense.

Receivables and payables are recognised inclusive of GST.

The net amount of GST recoverable from or payable to the Australian Taxation Office is included as part of receivables or payables.

Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis. The GST component of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities which is recoverable or payable to the Australian Taxation Office is classified as operating cash flows.

3.13 Economic dependence

The association is dependent upon the ongoing receipts of Federal and State Government grants and community and corporate donations to ensure the ongoing continuance of its programs. At the date of this report management has no reason to believe that this financial support will not continue.

3.14 Contingent liabilities

There are no contingent liabilities that have been incurred by association in relation to 2015 and 2014

3.15 Post – reporting date events

No adjusting or significant non-adjusting events have occurred between the reporting date and the date of authorisation

Auditor's responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on my audit. I have conducted my audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. These Auditing Standards require that I comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the association's preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the association's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the committee, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.
